

The Rural Health Professions Program (RHPP)

The Rural Health Professions Program (RHPP) offers 4, week-long, field-based service learning courses. Service-Learning is a teaching and learning strategy that integrates meaningful community service with instruction and reflection to enrich the learning experience, teach civic responsibility, and strengthen communities. Food and lodging is paid. Students are responsible for 1-unit of tuition. Visit the bursar's office for summer session tuition rates.

Check us out on Face Book: MEZCOPH Service Learning

Courses are open to all public health graduate (MPH, DrPH and PhD) and dual degree (LAS, MAS, Law, MBA, MD) students.

Course	Course Name	Course Location	Dates	Themes	Communities	Instructors
CPH 597A	Maternal & Child Health Programs in Urban Settings*	Tucson, AZ	Aug. 14- 19	Community-based outreach and research, families, health equity, cultural competency.	Refugee, immigrant, homeless, adjudicated youth, GLBT, urban Native American.	Nicki Teufel-Shone/ Samantha Sabo Carmella Khan
CPH 597B	Maternal & Child Health Programs in the Rural Southwest*	Hopi and Navajo Nations and Gallup, New Mexico	May. 15-21	Community-based outreach and research, chronic disease, tribal health systems, rural health, culture, sovereignty.	Native American women, youth, families, Community Health Representatives (CHRs), tribal health agencies/programs	Nicki Teufel-Shone/ Samantha Sabo Carmella Khan
CPH 597C	Border Health Service Learning Institute	Douglas, Arizona and Agua Prieta, Sonora, Mexico. Passport required.	Aug. 13-19	Binational/border health, globalization, economic development, migration.	Migrant farm workers, Promotoras de Salud , Mexican health systems, non-governmental organizations.	Cecilia Rosales Jill de Zapien Samantha Sabo Gail Emerick Hannah Hafter
CPH 597D	Rural Health Service Learning Institute	Globe-Miami, and San Carlos, Arizona	Aug. 14-19	Health promotion, environmental health, economic security, community collaboration in rural Arizona.	Rural mining towns and San Carlos Apache tribal lands	Lynda Bergsma Jean McClelland Jennifer Peters

*CPH 597A and 597B are required courses for MPH-Family and Child Health (FCH) (domestic) – If course fills, priority will be given to these students.

Courses Fill Fast- Register Today!

A partnership of Arizona Area Health Education Centers Program and the Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health