The Arizona State Health Assessment: On the Path to Public Health Accreditation

Arizona's State Health Assessment (SHA) is a critical prerequisite in the Arizona Department of Health Service goal of achieving nation accreditation through the Public Health Accreditation Board. The State Health Assessment provides a picture of the current status of public health in Arizona and will become a basis for informing priority setting and the development of public health policy, programs and interventions. Arizona's local communities played a big role in the development of the SHA as each County Health Department completed a County Health Assessment that informed the SHA.
